FirstDay Sites

PRODUCT BRIEF · CHURCH WEBSITE AND MEMBER TOOLS · COMING SOON

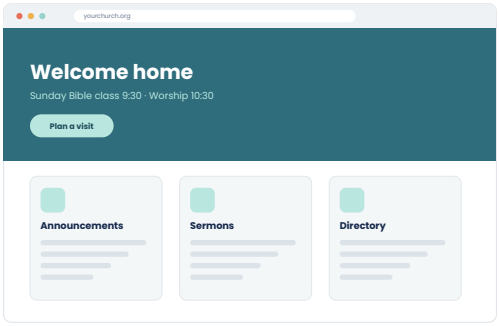

Your church website, connected to your screens

Website and member tools in one place. Post an announcement once and it reaches your website, your members and every screen running FirstDay Display Pro or Display Lite.

Type it once. It's everywhere.

Most churches keep the same information in four places: the website, the weekly email, the lobby TV slides and a member spreadsheet. Every change means four updates, and something gets missed.

FirstDay Sites keeps one list. Staff approve an announcement, an event or a prayer request once, and it reaches the website, the members' area and the screens in the building. When it ends, it comes down everywhere.

What's in FirstDay Sites

Your church website
Choose a theme and add your logo, edit the home page and add pages of your own. Use your own domain, or yourchurch.firstdaysites.com.

Members and directory
Members and households with photos, a members-only directory, and invitations so each member signs in with their own password.

Announcements and approvals
Staff post announcements, members send theirs in, and staff review them and choose what reaches the screens.

Calendar
One-time and weekly events for the website, an iCal feed for members' phones, and your screens.

Prayer list
Members send requests, staff review them, and only signed-in members can see them.

Sermons and podcast
A sermon archive with an audio player on your website, plus a podcast feed built for you.

Church email
Email the members from the same place you keep the directory.

Urgent notice
A weather closing or last-minute change posted once shows on the website and every linked screen at the same time.

Birthdays and new members
Birthdays, anniversaries and new members, on the website for members and, if you choose, on your screens.

Connected to the whole FirstDay family

Display Pro and Display Lite

Link a screen PC with a one-time code from Sites. Approved announcements, the urgent notice, and (if you switch them on) upcoming events, birthdays and anniversaries, new members and the prayer list arrive as their own categories, refreshed every few minutes. If the internet drops, the screens keep their last copy. Sites shows each linked screen's status and version.

Song tracking from Display Pro

Display Pro sends the songs it shows back to Sites, so the song history on your website fills itself in, with no one keeping a list by hand.

FirstDay Slides

Preachers publish slides from the free FirstDay Slides app to a service. Display Pro puts them in that service's schedule, and pictures of the slides can appear on the sermon's page.

Member app

A FirstDay Sites app for Android and iPhone, in your church's colors, with events, sermons, announcements, the directory and the prayer list. It's in testing now.

FirstDay Sermon Uploader

A small Windows app for the sound booth PC. Sermons reach your website without anyone uploading a file.

1. It watches the folder where your recorder saves files and waits until each recording is finished.
2. It converts WAV, FLAC and other audio to MP3 and names it for you, such as "Sunday Morning Sermon - March 7, 2027".
3. It posts the sermon to FirstDay Sites, published right away or held for review first. The same recording never posts twice.
4. If the connection drops, it tries again on its own.

Video publishing to YouTube and a Facebook Page, connected once in Sites, is built and being finalized with Google and Meta.

Built with care for your members' information

- Two-step sign-in for staff and roles that limit who can see and change what.
- Each church's information is kept separate, and that separation is tested for every kind of record.
- Prayer requests and the directory are for signed-in members only.
- Screens and apps link with one-time codes, and their access can be removed at any time.
- Security reviews before launch, with every finding fixed and tested.

Be one of the first churches on FirstDay Sites

Sites is built and being tested now; pricing will be announced before launch. Email hello@firstdaystudio.app to hear first, or to ask about trying it early with your congregation. Already using Display Pro or Display Lite? You're ready: the link is built in.

Preview it now: the FirstDay Sites and Sermon Uploader guides and training videos are on the Help page at firstdaystudio.app/help.
