PRODUCT BRIEF · PRESENTATIONS FOR PREACHERS AND TEACHERS

Sermon slides, made anywhere, shown exactly right

A free presentation maker for preachers and teachers. It uses Display Pro's own slide editor, so what you build on your laptop looks the same during worship.

The slides look the same in the auditorium

Slides built in one program and opened in another rarely survive the trip: fonts change, text spills off the edge, a picture moves.

FirstDay Slides is built from the same editor and drawing code as FirstDay Display Pro, so a slide made in Slides is the same slide in Display Pro: same layouts, fonts and spacing. If a computer is missing a font the presentation uses, Slides warns you before it matters.

Anyone can install it: the preacher, a guest speaker, a class teacher. No account, no sign-up, no code.

What's included

- Display Pro's slide editor: text, pictures, videos and shapes, with Display Pro's layouts and fonts.
- Speaker notes under every slide.
- Slide show on a second screen (F5 or Shift+F5), for classes and small rooms.
- Save as PowerPoint (.pptx), Editable or Exact look, or as PDF or pictures for handouts and other computers.
- Publish to FirstDay Sites COMING SOON, straight into the right service.
- One slide file (.fdslides) holds the presentation with its pictures and videos, so one file is all you move.

From the preacher's laptop to the screen

Today

1. The preacher builds the slides in FirstDay Slides and saves them as a .fdslides file.
2. The file goes to the Display Pro computer by USB drive, email or a shared folder.
3. In Display Pro, Presentations > Open slide file adds it, ready for the schedule.

With FirstDay Sites COMING SOON

1. In FirstDay Slides, File > Publish to FirstDay Sites sends the slides to your church's FirstDay Sites for a service: date, time and service name.
2. Display Pro picks them up and puts them in that service's schedule. Publish again after a change and it updates in place.
3. Optionally, pictures of the slides appear on that sermon's page on your church website.
